Zoom FOCUS X Golf Distance Finder

When you are considering making improvements to your golf game, there are many products on the market that claim to make a difference. With so many products available, choosing one that is affordable yet packed full of features can be tough. Here at Zoom Golf, we designed the FOCUS X to be the best golf rangefinder you can find, setting the bar high so that we could develop a golf accessory that really will help improve your game. Quite simply, if you can read the course better, you will make better decisions in the way that you play, from the type of club you use to how hard you hit the ball. This is all possible with our smart golf distance finder.

Easy to use even if you have never used this type of device before, simply point the FOCUS X in the direction you want the ball to land. If you can see the green, use the flagpole as a guide and you'll be shown all the information you'll need to decide on your play. It's 6x magnification means you can see for up to 600m, with the optical adjustment function able to fine-tune the focus providing a perfect view.

Buy the Best Golf Rangefinder For Less

Once you've used our golf rangefinder with slope, you'll wonder how you played without it, with the slope switch button helping to compensate for any elevation with ease. Innovations like this are all part of our vision to create useful golf products that will help you become a better golfer. Many golf rangefinders for sale today can be expensive and offer little more than the next. That's why with the FOCUS X you have a golf distance finder that is highly functional whilst costing much less.

If having maximum accuracy is important to you, then the FOCUS X is a golf rangefinder with slope that provides exactly that. It's also a compact size and lightweight to ensure it won't cause strain when using throughout the day and can be easily transported using the included protective case by clicking onto your belt or golf cart.
